Imagine a county where so many businesses want to open or expand that they fight for office space, high-paying jobs are plentiful and government officials have more than enough tax revenue to pay for essential services. With the economy still struggling to regain its footing, that scenario may seem like fiction. But a group of local business and government leaders who helped craft an economic strategy for the region hope someday that can be a reality for San Luis Obispo County.

EVC PROMOTES ECONOMIC STRATEGY

The Economic Strategy is moving forward and gaining attention courtesy of two ads that ran in the Tribune's Bizz Buzz on August 27, 2011. The advertisements were focused on promoting the EVC and the Economic Strategy (See ads on right). Many thanks to Bruce Ray and his team at The Tribune for contributing the ads. We also wish to thank all of the participants of the Economic Strategy for making this possible.

A FEW THOUGHTS ON CHINA, CONSISTENCY, AND STANDARDIZATION

By Kevin Meyer

September 7, 2011

I just returned from my annual trip to visit some customers and attend a trade show in Shanghai, China. Always an interesting experience and I personally love Asia, although I prefer the respectful humility of the Japanese and the constant happiness of the Thai and Cambodians. The latter always seem to be full of joy even though an entire generation of men was wiped out only a few years ago - and we think we have problems.
